

Hatley Castle, August 13 2011

Sole & Dan

To the best photographer, Erin Wallis

The day Dan proposed to me in front of a waterfall was one of the best days of my life and the day of August 13, 2011 was a moment in my life that I never thought would happen but always dreamed of...I married my highschool sweetheart, my first love and best friend.

I have loved viewing and admiring all the wedding photos you have taken over the years, I never thought one day, I would be in one of those photos in my fairytale wedding dress, marrying my prince charming...in front of a castle!

The most special part of having you as our photographer is that I have known you since I was a little black, curly haired, 4 year old girl running around the vista bay/ passage view neighborhood, always wanting to hang out with you and all of my older brother's cool friends...what a dork! Never did I imagine as a little girl that you would be there to share this wonderful and defined time in my life. As tears ran down our faces, before, during and after our vows, you were there to make sure none of these moments were missed and we thank you again and again for that. We are so blessed to have had you capture such an amazing and long time coming moment for Dan and I and we couldn't have asked for more. It can be so difficult to capture all the overwhelming emotions that are occurring in one's heart and mind on a life changing day like this, where you decide to spend the rest of your life with another, but somehow you managed to take it all in and produce the most heartfelt and exquisite photos one can never imagine.

Your talent...fascinating, your photos...brilliant, your caring and heartwarming way of being...words cannot express.

Thank you, lots of love xoxo Sole & Dan MacDougall
